

Friends of the Earth

Friends of the Earth is hiring a Campaign Communications Officer

Closing date: 30th March 2022

About the organization

Friends of the Earth Ireland is a community at the heart of the growing movement here for a just world with zero pollution. Our mission is to campaign and build movement power to bring about the system change we need for a just world where people and nature thrive. We are trying to change the world on a shoestring and in the face of opposition from powerful vested interests. So we need committed, energetic people on our team. We work collaboratively to advance the organization's mission, vision and values. And we look out for each other as best we can.

We are a small, nimble organization. This means there'll be plenty of opportunities to learn and develop new skills. It also means you'll need to be flexible and you'll be expected to get stuck in and do whatever tasks are required to ensure that work is completed on time and to the highest standards possible.

About the role

Reporting to the Head of Communications, the successful candidate will deliver crucial campaign and organizational communications through a variety of channels.

Together with the Head of Communications you are responsible for advancing one of our strategic objectives related to Policy Change:

To create public understanding that much of the change we wish to see will generate positive impacts and opportunities, not costs and hardships. To bring justice and fairness to the centre of the debate about climate and environmental issues - change should happen when justice and fairness requires it, even if it is not popular with everyone, especially the rich and powerful.

And together with the Head of Communications and colleagues working in supporter relations you will contribute to advancing one of our four organizational goals:

To ensure Friends of the Earth supporters feel they are members of a mutually supportive community and present ways for them to participate in and sustain the work of the organization for as long as it is required.

The climate crisis is in the public mind like never before and Friends of the Earth is growing as Ireland and the world step up efforts to cut emissions fast enough to prevent complete climate breakdown. This is a role for someone with a strong feel for campaign communications and hands-on experience of creating engaging communications content across a variety of media, channels and platforms.

Responsibilities

1	Campaign Communications	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Working closely with campaign leads and relevant staff to plan and execute effective written and visual communications across organisation's external communications channels (website, emails, social media). ▪ Creating effective and targeted campaign emails and text for online actions to mobilise the Friends of the Earth community and wider public to support and participate in campaigns and actions. ▪ Creating written and visual content (social media, website, emails) to translate policy, movement building and campaign objectives and demands into easily digestible communications to reach and mobilise Friends of the Earth community and the wider public. ▪ Tailoring written content to engage varying audiences – email segmenting and targeting. ▪ Edit and create visual and audio visual communications such as videos, GIFS and graphics to compliment and support written communications.
2	Social Media	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Maintaining Friends of the Earth social media platforms, keeping them active with engaging content that supports the organisation's campaign goals, mission and values. ▪ Tailoring written content to engage varying audiences on social media platforms. ▪ Creating attractive and effective visual digital media to relay campaign goals, mission and values suitable for each platform. ▪ Using paid social media to reach new audiences.
3	Campaign & movement building administrative tasks	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Build attractive supporter emails, website posts and other publishable content based on text that has been drafted by other staff members. ▪ Email organisations and groups in coalitions we work with, alerting them to communications content we have produced.

Statement on Solidarity, Participation and Inclusion

A commitment to solidarity, participation and inclusion is one of the fundamental values of Friends of the Earth. We therefore endeavour to ensure that everyone, particularly marginalised and disadvantaged groups who might be affected by policy are considered and included in the conversation. We acknowledge our privilege as people working in an NGO and understand the fact that there may be barriers to participation. We strive to expand and diversify civic engagement, by creating spaces for everybody to participate and be included in activism and political change.

As part of this commitment to the values of solidarity, participation and inclusion we strongly encourage applications from those with identities under-represented in the environmental movement, for example: people of colour, LGBTQIA+ people, those seeking asylum or with refugee status, people with a disability, or people are who members of an ethnic minority.
